Dear Parents, Carers and Students,

I am writing to you with some important news about proposed changes at Cranbourne next year. The letter attached explains that the Governing Body are proposing to amalgamate Cranbourne and Fort Hill schools, with two schools becoming one on the Cranbourne site; and it gives the reasons for the proposal. This would mean that some of the students currently educated at Fort Hill would be joining us here at Cranbourne from September.

At the moment, we are at the consultation stage and we would like to hear what you have to say about the best way to do this. You may have questions and the letter below will tell you about meetings you can attend and a website you can visit to find out answers to these questions and make your views known. I can't stress enough that we will listen to you and that you really can shape this plan, going forward.

Please do take time to read the letter attached and contribute to the consultation process. I believe that the Governing Body has made a bold and correct decision in proposing this amalgamation and that we will be much stronger as a result.

Yours faithfully
