

Bryony Frost

Bryony is the Head of Research Operations at King's College London. Before this, she worked at Queen Mary University of London for nine years. After studying for a Physics degree at Keble College Oxford, Bryony went on to MSc study at Imperial. Bryony has been a governor at Drapers' Maylands Primary School since 2014 and has responsibility for outcomes for pupils, working to ensure high aspirations for everyone.