Rehabilitation of Offenders Act, 1974 (Exceptions Order, 1975)

You must disclose any past convictions, cautions or bind-overs at the time of your application.

In the event of employment being offered and taken up, any failure to disclose such convictions is likely to result in disciplinary action by the school which may lead to dismissal.

Any information may be given on a separate sheet from your application form and will be kept completely confidential. It will be considered only in relation to an application for positions to which the Exception Order applies.

In addition, the school, on Home Office advice, will require the successful candidate to agree to an enhanced Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) check for convictions which may or may not be relevant to the appointment. A separate authorisation form will need to be completed after the interview and you will be required to bring in your DBS certificate for inspection by the school as soon as you receive it, in order to verify its authenticity and record the certificate's number on the school's Single Central Record.

Similarly, if you already have a current DBS enhanced disclosure certificate you will be required to produce your original certificate for inspection by the school, either at interview or prior to commencement of your employment.

If you subscribe to the DBS Update Service you will be requested to give permission for the school to go online to carry out a check to find out if the information released on the DBS certificate is current and up-to-date.

If you do not subscribe to the DBS Update Service you will be required to apply for a new DBS enhanced disclosure.
