THE LEGAL REQUIREMENTS FOR RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Religious Education must be provided for all registered pupils in maintained schools, including those in Reception classes and the sixth form. (See footnote 1)

Religious Education is a component of the basic curriculum, to be taught alongside the National Curriculum in all maintained schools. In all maintained schools, other than voluntary aided schools with a religious character, it must be taught according to a locally Agreed Syllabus, (see footnote 2) which is the statutory order.

Each Local Authority (LA) must have a SACRE (Standing Advisory Council on Religious Education) to advise the LA on matters connected with RE. The SACRE may require a review of the Agreed Syllabus at any time. This is in addition to the requirement on LAs to convene an Agreed Syllabus Conference (ASC) to reconsider the Agreed Syllabus every five years.

The Education Act 1996 states that an Agreed Syllabus must reflect the fact that the religious traditions in Great Britain are in the main Christian, whilst taking account of the teachings and practices of the other principal religions represented in Great Britain. It must be non-denominational and must not be designed to convert pupils or to urge a particular religion or religious belief on pupils. Teaching about denominations is not prohibited.

The Agreed Syllabus sets out what pupils should be taught. The key focus and learning outcomes for each key stage, along with the RE levels, set out the expected standards of pupils’ performance at different ages.

The headteacher must ensure the provision of Religious Education and ensure that sufficient time and resources are given to Religious Education to meet statutory requirements. For LA maintained schools, the governing body and the LA must also exercise their functions in securing this provision.

Footnotes

1. The legal requirements for teaching Religious Education were set out in the Education Act 1988 and confirmed by the Education Acts of 1996 and School Standards and Framework Act 1998. Parents have the right to withdraw their children from all or part of Religious Education lessons.

THE IMPORTANCE OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

RE provokes challenging questions about the ultimate meaning and purpose of life, beliefs about God, the self, the nature of reality, issues of right and wrong and what it means to be human.

RE develops pupils’ knowledge and understanding of Christianity, of other principal religions, other religious traditions and world views that offer answers to the questions above. RE offers pupils the opportunity to examine the significance of religion in relation to themselves and others, as they consider how religion and beliefs have an impact on individuals and groups in local, national and global contexts.

RE offers opportunities for personal reflection and spiritual development. It encourages pupils to explore their own beliefs (whether they are religious or not) in the light of what they learn, examine issues of religious beliefs and faith, and consider their own responses to questions raised. RE encourages empathy and enables pupils to develop their own sense of identity and belonging.

RE encourages respect for all, including those with differing faiths and beliefs, as pupils develop understanding and appreciation of our diverse society and world. RE helps to challenge prejudice, discrimination and racism.

RE is an academically rigorous subject providing the opportunity to attain external accreditation, including GCSE full course and A Level Religious Studies.

RE and the Whole School Curriculum

RE contributes to the aims of the whole school curriculum and has an important part to play as part of a broad, balanced and coherent curriculum to which all pupils are entitled.

RE helps to promote the spiritual, moral, cultural, mental and physical development of pupils, and prepares them for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of later life. Through RE pupils can develop skills e.g. discernment, critical thinking and reasoning. RE gives opportunities for pupils to listen to others, hear and analyse conflicting viewpoints and develop empathy and respect.

RE, therefore, contributes to the development of the following:

Economic as pupils develop skills in RE for adult life, employment and lifelong learning

Cultural as pupils develop understanding of how religious traditions contribute to the cultural heritage in all its diversity

Social as pupils develop understanding of how religious identity and belonging are expressed, and consider their own participation in groups and communities

Personal as pupils reflect on their own spiritual and moral ideas and those of others.

1 Section 78, Education Act 2002
N.B. These three elements incorporate what has previously been known as Attainment Target 1 and Attainment Target 2.
THE THREE ELEMENTS OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

RE is based on:

- Knowledge and Understanding of Religion
- Critical Thinking
- Personal Reflection

These are interlinked and enable pupils to make good progress in RE.

Knowledge and Understanding of Religion

This is about what religion is and the impact it has for individuals and communities. It involves investigation of and enquiry into the nature of religion and beliefs through the four RE concepts:

- Belief
- Authority
- Expressions of Belief
- Impact of Belief

Pupils will develop their knowledge and understanding of individual religions and distinctive religious traditions, and apply this to considering ways in which religions are similar to and different from each other. Older students will be able to connect significant features of religion together in a coherent pattern. All pupils will enquire into ultimate questions and ethical issues through their study of religious traditions.

Critical Thinking

Critical thinking requires pupils to use reason to analyse and evaluate the claims that religions make. Through learning in this way pupils have the opportunity to give opinions, support their ideas with reason, consider alternative arguments, weigh up evidence and listen to and respond to the views of others, so developing the ability to articulate their own views and form their own opinions.

Critical thinking requires pupils to be open minded and to value different types of reasoning including intuition e.g. the many differing reasons why people might hold onto a religious faith.

Critical thinking in RE is accessible to pupils of all ages and can be formally assessed. Pupils can demonstrate progress through the quality of their ability to analyse various viewpoints, explain or justify their opinion and evaluate the opinions of others. It is not the opinion itself which is assessable (e.g. some pupils may state opinions which affirm or deny religious faith; both are acceptable in the RE classroom) but the process of developing and justifying opinions. This is at the heart of Philosophy for Children.
Personal Reflection

This develops pupils’ ability to reflect on religion in relation to their own beliefs, values and experiences and the influence of these on their daily life, attitudes and actions.

Personal evaluation is introspective, subjective and private. Pupils can make personal progress through reflection, empathy, developing respect and appreciation of others but this should not be assessed.

Example 1
Pupils learn about the story of Rama and Sita and how this tells Hindus that good triumphs over evil. Pupils are asked to think about other stories that illustrate this theme and events and experiences in their own lives when good triumphs over bad.

Example 2
Pupils are asked to think about times they may have acted to help others in the same way as in the story of The Good Samaritan.

To Note
- Knowledge and Understanding of Religion and Critical Thinking are assessable for all pupils (see The Key Focus of Learning on pages 28-29 which should be used in planning and assessment at each key stage).
- Personal reflection should not be assessed.

CONCEPTS IN RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Each concept:
- conveys a fundamental idea for understanding how religion works
- as well as being distinctive, also relates to other concepts
- is capable of exploration at different levels and depths

<th>AUTHORITY</th>

<tbody>
<tr>
<td>• What do people believe?</td>
<td>• How do people know what to believe and how to act?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Questions of meaning, purpose and truth e.g. God, human life, the natural world, life after death.</td>
<td>• Questions about the importance of holy books, founders, leaders, teachings, tradition, spiritual encounters as sources of authority.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Key beliefs of individuals and religious communities e.g. love, forgiveness, equality.</td>

Students have the opportunity to:

BELIEF:
- explore the beliefs of religious traditions and secular world views
- develop critical thinking e.g. are the beliefs true? Why are beliefs important?
- reflect on own ideas and beliefs.

AUTHORITY:
- explore differing sources of authority within and across religions
- explore some religious teachings and stories
- develop critical thinking e.g. are the stories true? Why is there disagreement about where authority lies? Why are holy books interpreted differently?
- reflect on who/what inspires and influences them.

Knowledge and Understanding of Religion  Critical Thinking  Personal Reflection
Concepts in Religious Education

Expressions of Belief

- How do people express beliefs, feelings and commitment through worship?
- What beliefs do they express e.g. love, devotion, awe, gratitude?
- Differing forms of expression e.g. creeds, prayer, ritual, ceremony, use of music, objects, art, drama, story, poetry.
- How identity, belonging and commitment are expressed through ceremonies, rituals and symbols.

Students have the opportunity to:

- describe and show understanding of differing forms of worship and make links to the beliefs and feelings behind them
- explain the way forms of expression can make a difference to the feelings and ideas of individuals and groups of people
- develop critical thinking e.g. does prayer matter? Do rituals have a role in 21st century multi-religious/secular Britain? Do you have to be religious to be spiritual?
- reflect on own expressions of beliefs, values and commitments.

Impact of Belief

- How does belief and worship affect what people feel and think and how they act and behave?
- Identity, belonging, commitment expressed e.g. through religious dress, ceremonies, work in religious and local communities.
- Values, attitudes and actions affected by beliefs e.g. how Sikh belief in equality and service may affect attitudes to ethical issues surrounding poverty, justice, war, relationships etc.
- Differing views on the impact of faith e.g. Orthodox/Reform Judaism, varying groups within Islam.
- Controversial issues affecting individuals, local and global communities e.g. diversity, living together, media portrayal, extremism, religious dress, prejudice.

Students have the opportunity to:

- show understanding of the link between beliefs and actions in religious traditions
- explain how the impact of religious beliefs can vary for individuals and differing religious communities
- develop critical thinking e.g. ask questions about identity, belonging and commitment to religious communities, ask questions about the link between religious beliefs and teaching and values and actions
- reflect on own concept of identity, belonging, commitment and response to ethical issues and dilemmas.

Knowledge and Understanding of Religion  Critical Thinking  Personal Reflection
The following enquiry questions cover the main dimensions in the study of religion that are appropriate for school age pupils. Each type of enquiry question is distinctive but relates to the other enquiry questions.

Theological Questions
These are questions about the particular beliefs of faith traditions (and secular world views) e.g.
- What do Christians believe about God?
- Why is Jesus special to Christians?
- What do religions believe about life after death?

Phenomenological Questions
These are questions that focus on how the beliefs of a religion are expressed in practice and ways in which the beliefs make a difference to the lives of individuals and communities e.g.
- How do Buddhists express their beliefs?
- How do Christians celebrate Easter?
- How and why do people use ritual in their lives?
- How are the arts used to express spirituality and belief?

Philosophical Questions
These are ultimate questions of meaning, purpose and truth e.g. questions about the meaning of life, suffering, life after death, existence of God, validity of religious belief. They are the sort of questions that all humans may ask, whatever their religious or non-religious beliefs are e.g.
- Why do people suffer?
- Is death the end?
- Do miracles happen?
- What is the meaning of life?

Ethical Questions
These are questions about people’s values and actions and how much moral decisions are made as a result of religious beliefs. Ethical questions may focus on particular moral issues and the religious and non-religious responses to these e.g.
- How and why do religious people care for others?
- Why should people with a religious faith care for the environment?
- How do people make moral decisions?
- Should religious people take part in wars?

Sociological Questions
These are questions about the impact of religion on society and the role of religion in communities, both locally and globally. These could include questions about how religions and beliefs affect people’s sense of identity and belonging, questions about diversity of beliefs, interfaith harmony and conflict, and the role of religion in politics e.g.
- What does it mean to live in a religiously diverse country?
- How can religious beliefs affect identity? What issues does this raise?
- Do religions bring conflict or harmony?
- To what extent is the portrayal of religions in the media accurate?
How Schools Should Use Enquiry Questions

Enquiry questions should be used to help produce a balanced Scheme of Work that enables pupils to develop an understanding of the differing dimensions in the study of religion.

At Key Stage 1 and Lower Key Stage 2 units will focus on theological and phenomenological questions (see exemplar plans on pages 104, 113) e.g.

What does it mean to belong to Christianity? (KS1) What do Christians believe about Jesus? (KS2)

Some unit questions ask both theological and phenomenological questions e.g. What do Muslims believe and how do they show this in their lives? The teacher should develop enquiry questions within this unit of work to ensure both types of curriculum questions are addressed.

At Upper Key Stage 2 units will mainly focus on theological and phenomenological questions. Ethical questions can also be introduced (e.g. How and why do religious people care for others? Why should people with a religious faith care for others?). Philosophical questions may be raised within some units of work e.g. questions about miracles, existence of God, life after death are raised within units on Christianity.

At Key Stage 3 a Scheme of Work should be planned to ensure all enquiry questions are developed. Each type of enquiry question should be the focus of at least one unit of work. Some units will explore some or all of the enquiry questions.

At Key Stage 4 all types of enquiry questions are addressed through examination specifications. Some enquiry questions (e.g. ethical, philosophical questions) will be given greater emphasis depending on the specification chosen.
ENQUIRY BASED LEARNING

Enquiry Based Learning is a process which actively engages pupils in the learning process. It enables them to develop skills as they investigate issues surrounding religion and beliefs. Through the cycle of enquiry pupils have the opportunity to:

- generate and refine questions
- develop lines of enquiry using a range of methods and sources
- research complex issues and explore a range of viewpoints
- gather, compare and synthesise information, interpreting, analysing and evaluating findings
- develop knowledge and understanding of religion and belief and the impact these have on individuals and communities today
- use critical thinking and reasoning to draw conclusions
- reflect on their own ideas, beliefs, values, experiences and feelings in relation to what they have learnt through the enquiry.

Cycle of Enquiry

The process includes the following steps. Pupils can become less teacher-reliant and more independent in using these steps as they become older.

ENGAGE

- An engaging resource/activity is used to introduce the new enquiry.
- A key question for the enquiry is developed/shared.

EXPLORE

Pupils:

- explore the question as a class or in small groups
  - What do we know already about the question?
  - What are our initial ideas?
  - What more do we need to find out?
  - Are there any other questions we might want to ask?
- plan and organise how they will answer the question
  - How can we find out?
  - Who could we ask?
  - What sources can we use?
  - Where could we go?

ENQUIRE/INVESTIGATE

Pupils:

- carry out the enquiry using a variety of sources and methods as appropriate (younger pupils may have sources and methods provided for them)
- interpret what they find out and bring different pieces of information together.
EVALUATE

Pupils:

- draw conclusions from their findings
  - What have we found out?
  - Can we answer the question?
  - What are we still not sure about?
  - Are there further questions we need to ask?
  - Do we need to carry out more enquiries?

- consider how to present findings.

PRESENT

- Pupils present findings to address the enquiry question.

REFLECT and EVALUATE

Pupils consider the following questions:

- What do we think about our findings?

- How has this enquiry helped us make more sense of the key question and our understanding of religion and beliefs?

- What further questions do we now want to ask and reflect on?

- What could we find out next?
This page is left intentionally blank
REFLECT AND EVALUATE
Pupils:
- consider new learning about religion and beliefs
- reflect on questions and ideas raised
- consider what further questions could be explored
- decide if the enquiry is complete or if they need to explore further.

EXPLORE
Pupils:
- explore their ideas and questions about the enquiry
- organise how they will go about the enquiry.

ENGAGE
- The key stimulus.
- The key question for the enquiry.

ENQUIRE
Pupils use a variety of methods and sources to address the key questions.

THE CYCLE OF ENQUIRY

PRESENT
Pupils present findings to address the enquiry question.

EVALUATE
Pupils:
- interpret what they have found out and draw conclusions
- consider if further enquiry is needed.
SKILLS IN RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Throughout the key stages the pupils should increasingly have opportunities to develop a range of skills. Skills that are essential for pupils to learn and make progress in Religious Education can be developed through the three elements of RE in this syllabus:

Knowledge and Understanding of Religion, Critical Thinking, Personal Reflection.

These skills are outlined below and in the overview pages for each key stage. The skills should be considered at the start of Medium Term Planning.

Knowledge and Understanding of Religion

Investigation and Enquiry e.g.
- asking relevant questions
- knowing how to use different types of sources as a way of gathering information
- knowing what may constitute evidence for understanding religion(s)
- ascertaining facts

- making the association between religions and individual, community, national and international life
- identifying key religious values and their interplay with secular ones

Synthesis (how things relate to each other) e.g.
- linking significant features of religion together in a coherent pattern

Critical Thinking

Analysis e.g.
- exercising critical and appreciative judgement in order to distinguish between belief, prejudice, superstition, viewpoint, opinion and fact in connection with issues of conviction and faith
- distinguishing between the features of different religions

Evaluation e.g.
- debating issues of religious significance, with reference to evidence, factual information and argument
- weighing the respective claims of self interest, consideration for others, religious teaching and individual conscience

Interpretation e.g.

- developing the power of imagination to identify feelings such as love, wonder, forgiveness and sorrow
- seeing the world through the eyes of others and issues arising from their point of view
ATTITUDES IN RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

RE encourages pupils to develop positive attitudes to their own and others’ beliefs and values, in a classroom climate that recognises and respects difference.

The following attitudes can be developed and should be planned for in units of work at every key stage.

Self-awareness

RE can give the opportunity for pupils to:
- recognise their own sense of self-worth and value
- develop the capacity to consider their own beliefs, values and attitudes, and feel confident to communicate these to others without fear of embarrassment or ridicule
- develop personal, intellectual and moral integrity as they consider their own religious, moral and spiritual ideas
- acknowledge bias and prejudice in themselves
- become increasingly sensitive to the impact of their ideas, attitudes and behaviour on others.

Respect

RE can give the opportunity for pupils to:
- recognise that others have a right to have different beliefs and practices to their own
- recognise that people’s convictions are often deeply held
- be sensitive to the feelings, ideas, needs and concerns of others
- listen to and learn from others, even when views are different from their own
- value difference and diversity
- discern what is worthy of respect and what is not
- appreciate that some beliefs are not inclusive and consider the issues that this raises for individuals and society.

Open-mindedness

RE can give pupils the opportunity to:
- learn and gain new understanding
- look beyond surface impressions
- recognise that people hold a wide range of opinions
- listen to the views of others without prejudging their response
- consider evidence and argument, disagreeing reasonably and respectfully, about religious, moral and spiritual questions
- develop the ability to live with uncertainty and ambiguity.

Appreciation and Wonder

RE can give the opportunity for pupils to:
- appreciate the wonder of the world in which we live – its beauty, order, shape, pattern, mystery
- value insight, imagination, curiosity and intuition as ways of perceiving reality
- recognise that knowledge is bounded by mystery
- develop their capacity to respond to questions of meaning and purpose
- develop their imagination and curiosity.
THE CONTRIBUTION RE MAKES TO PUPILS’ SPIRITUAL, MORAL, SOCIAL AND CULTURAL DEVELOPMENT

All schools are required to promote pupils’ spiritual, moral, social and cultural (SMSC) development and prepare pupils for adult life. Religious Education has a vital role to play in providing opportunities for SMSC development.

Spiritual Development

RE contributes to pupils’ spiritual development as it enables pupils to learn about and reflect on beliefs, religious or otherwise, which inform people’s perspective on life. RE gives pupils the opportunity to consider what is meant by the intangible and to recognise and appreciate that there is more to life than the routine and everyday. RE asks ultimate questions and considers issues of truth and meaning.

RE provides opportunities for pupils’ spiritual development through:

- developing knowledge and understanding of what ‘spiritual’ means in the religions studied
- discussing, evaluating and reflecting on key questions of meaning and truth such as the origins of the universe, life after death, good and evil, beliefs about God
- discussing and evaluating the importance of values such as justice, honesty and truth in developing the spiritual life
- considering how religions and other world views perceive the nature of the soul, the value of human beings, and their relationships with one another, with the natural world, and with God
- appreciating the beauty/order of the natural and human-made world
- developing their own views and ideas on religious and spiritual issues and evaluating the ideas and beliefs of others
- learning about and reflecting on important concepts, rituals, experiences and beliefs at the heart of religious and other traditions and practices
- considering how beliefs and concepts in religion may be expressed through the creative and expressive arts and related to the human and natural sciences
- expressing their thoughts and ideas creatively e.g. through art, music, creative writing.

Moral Development

RE contributes to pupils’ moral development as it provides opportunities for investigating and discussing how people make moral decisions and what people mean by the terms right and wrong. Pupils are given the opportunity to learn about how religious and non-religious beliefs can affect the values and actions of people and how these can differ. They are given the opportunity to critically evaluate people’s values and actions and reflect on their own views about a range of moral and ethical issues.

RE provides opportunities for pupils’ moral development through:

- learning to value diversity and engage in issues concerning truth, justice and trust
- exploring how the behaviour of individuals and society is influenced by beliefs, teachings, sacred texts and guidance from religious leaders
- investigating key themes in religious stories e.g. good and evil
- considering what is of ultimate value to believers through studying the key beliefs and teachings from religion and philosophy about values and ethical codes of practice
- studying a range of ethical issues and moral dilemmas within and across religions
- considering the importance of rights and responsibilities and developing a sense of conscience
Moral Development (cont)

- learning how to make reasoned and informed judgements on moral issues
- evaluating religious stances on moral issues in relation to their own values and attitudes
- reflecting on their own attitudes, values and actions.

Social Development

RE contributes to pupils’ social development as it enables pupils to use a range of social skills whilst visiting places of worship and meeting people from differing religious and non-religious backgrounds. RE gives pupils the opportunity to develop interest in, and understanding of the role religion plays in the way communities and societies function.

RE provides opportunities for pupils’ social development through:

- meeting people with differing religious beliefs
- learning about different religious communities and how they work together
- exploring what binds religious communities together e.g. moral codes, ceremonies and festivals
- considering how religious and other beliefs lead to particular actions and concerns
- valuing how British society is enriched by a variety of religions and cultures
- investigating social and environmental issues from religious perspectives, recognising the diversity of viewpoints both within and between religion, and where there is common ground
- articulating own and others’ ideas on a range of contemporary issues
- valuing relationships and developing a sense of belonging.

Cultural Development

RE contributes to pupils' cultural development as it enables pupils to explore, understand and develop respect for religious and cultural diversity in the local, national and global context. Pupils have the opportunity to develop understanding about the role and influence of religion on shaping their own heritage and evaluate the issues surrounding interfaith dialogue and harmony. RE provides opportunity to explore and reflect on how literature and the arts are used to express beliefs and spirituality, locally, nationally and globally.

RE provides opportunities for pupils’ cultural development through:

- developing understanding of the cultural contexts in which they live
- exploring Britain as a multi-faith and multicultural society
- evaluating how British culture has been shaped by Christianity
- encountering people, literature, the arts and resources from differing cultures
- exploring how religion is expressed in a variety of artistic media
- considering the relationship between religion and cultures and how religions and beliefs contribute to cultural identity and practices
- encouraging racial and interfaith harmony, respect for all and community cohesion
- promoting awareness of the value of interfaith co-operation.

OVERVIEW

This syllabus provides for a developmental approach to RE. Continuity and progression is achieved by building on the knowledge, understanding and skills that pupils gain across and between key stages.

Pupils make progress in RE through:

- developing knowledge and understanding of the beliefs and practices within religion
- developing skills e.g. of critical thinking, evaluation, analysis, reflection in relation to the religious material they learn about.

This syllabus enables teachers to plan for continuity and progression in RE through:

The RE Concepts – Belief, Authority, Expressions of Belief, Impact of Belief

These underpin the Programmes of Study KS1–3. Throughout the key stages pupils have the opportunity to deepen their understanding of these concepts and make increasingly complex studies of religion. Please see pages 10-11.

The Programmes of Study

These indicate appropriate learning about each religion across the key stages. This enables teachers to refer to other key stages to ensure they plan for progression in learning. Please see pages 36-72.

Key Focus of Learning

The key focus for each key stage helps teachers to plan work that is appropriate for the age and ability of their pupils. The key focus for learning at each key stage is indicated through the three elements:

- Knowledge and Understanding of Religion
- Critical Thinking
- Personal Reflection

Each element builds on knowledge and skills from the previous key stage. For example, the table below shows the key words of progression across the key stages for Knowledge and Understanding of Religion:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Key focus of learning for Knowledge and Understanding of Religion</th>
<th>KS1</th>
<th>Lower KS2</th>
<th>Upper KS2</th>
<th>KS3</th>
<th>KS4</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>identify</td>
<td></td>
<td>describe</td>
<td>understand</td>
<td>connect</td>
<td>coherent</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Teachers can use the key focus to build on previous knowledge and skills developed through the three elements, so enabling pupils to make progress. Please see pages 28-29.
Learning Outcomes

These indicate what the majority of pupils should be able to do by the end of each key stage. They are based on the key focus of learning and the RE levels and build on previous knowledge, understanding and development of skills. They can be used in planning and assessment activities.

Please see pages 98-99 (KS1); 106-107 (Lower KS2); 117 (Upper KS2); 131-132 (KS3).

RE Levels

The levels have been revised to reflect the three elements that comprise RE in this syllabus. The levels for RE consist of seven level descriptors of increasing difficulty. Each describes the types and range of performance that pupils working at that level should characteristically demonstrate, for the three elements in this syllabus.

These levels should be used to pitch work for these elements.

The levels for Knowledge and Understanding of Religion and Critical Thinking can be used for assessment. Personal Reflection cannot be assessed but pupils can make progress in this element.

Please see pages 30-33.

Unit Questions

The exemplar plans for Key Stages 1–3 use questions as the focus for units of work. These are designed to enable pupils to develop and extend their learning about religious beliefs and practices across the key stages e.g.

Why is Jesus special to Christians? (Key Stage 1)

What do Christians believe about Jesus? (Lower Key Stage 2)

So what do we now know about Christianity? (Upper Key Stage 2)

What does it mean to live as a Christian today? (Key Stage 3 to include the impact of belief in Jesus)

Please see pages 102-103 (KS1); 110-112 (Lower KS2); 120-122 (Upper KS2); 136-137 (KS3).

Skills

These are common to all key stages but can be developed with and across key stages. RE skills are identified in the RE levels (see pages 30-33). The development of these skills is indicated on the introductory pages for each key stage.

Please see pages 101 (KS1); 109 (Lower KS2); 119 (Upper KS2); 134 (KS3).

Attitudes

Knowledge and Understanding of Religion

Key Stage 4

Students will demonstrate coherent understanding of what religion and belief is.

Critical Thinking

In response to the religious material they learn about, students recognise that some issues that relate to religion and beliefs are complex. They explore and identify a variety of viewpoints, analysing and evaluating the differing types of evidence used. They are able to make a persuasive case, using coherent arguments to support their views. They question assumptions and explore the origins of a range of opinions, including their own. They can represent and critically evaluate the views of others, including those they do not agree with.

Personal Reflection

In relation to religious material studied, students will be able to evaluate beliefs, ideas, feelings and values both in relation to themselves and others.

DEFINITIONS

Reason: the power of the mind to think, understand and form judgements logically

Plausible: reasonable or probable without necessarily being so, persuasive

Sound: reliable, competent, unbroken

Cogent: clear, logical, convincing

Coherent: consistent, connected, making sense
LEVELS IN RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

These levels have been revised to reflect the three elements that comprise RE in this syllabus.

They consist of seven level descriptors of increasing difficulty. Each describes the types and range of performance that pupils working at that level should characteristically demonstrate.

To ensure continuity and progression for all pupils, these levels should be used in conjunction with the pages on Key Focus and Learning Outcomes for each key stage [pages 98-99 (KS1); 106-107 (Lower KS2); 116-117 (Upper KS2); 131-132 (KS3)].

Pitch and Key Focus

The levels should be used to pitch work appropriately for both Knowledge and Understanding of Religion and Critical Thinking, which can be assessed and reported on.

They also show provision for progress in Personal Reflection but this cannot be assessed or reported on.

PLANNING, ASSESSING AND REPORTING

This syllabus enables teachers to plan for continuity and progression in RE through:

- Key Focus of Learning indicated through the three elements: Knowledge and Understanding of Religion, Critical Thinking, Personal Reflection. See pages 28-29 and the introductory pages for Key Stages 1 – 4

- Learning Outcomes indicating what the majority of pupils should be able to do by the end of each key stage. See introductory pages for Key Stages 1–3

- RE Levels which consist of seven level descriptors in increasing difficulty. See pages 30-33.

At Key Stages 1–3 these should be used for planning work to match the differing abilities of pupils, setting targets, assessing and reporting on pupil progress in RE. Please note: the levels for Knowledge and Understanding of Religion and Critical Thinking can be used for assessment. Personal Reflection cannot be assessed although pupils can make progress in this element.

Please note: In the Foundation Stage, work should be planned and children’s progress and attainment assessed and reported on, in relation to the Early Learning Goals.

At Key Stage 4, national qualifications are the main means of target setting, reviewing progress and assessing achievement and attainment in Religious Education. The key focus for Key Stage 4 and the RE levels may also be used to plan for and assess progress.

At sixth form teachers should ensure that planning enables students to make progress from Key Stage 4 and further develop skills and attitudes.

Reporting

Schools should use the appropriate forms of assessment indicated above to:

- report to parents on pupils’ progress in Religious Education

- pass on information about pupil achievement and attainment to partner schools (i.e. junior and secondary schools) in order to aid progression.
BREADTH OF STUDY

This syllabus is designed to ensure that pupils develop knowledge and understanding of the principal religions in Great Britain (Christianity, Buddhism, Hinduism, Islam, Judaism, Sikhism) in at least one key stage during their school life. Christianity is taught as a core religion at all key stages. In addition schools are encouraged to study any other religious communities with a significant local presence.

RE should also include:

- study of a religious community with significant local presence, where appropriate (for example the Bahá’í Faith)
- consideration of a secular world view where appropriate (for example Humanism).
INTRODUCTION TO THE PROGRAMMES OF STUDY

The following pages contain an outline of appropriate content to be taught at Key Stages 1–3 for the six principal religions taught in this syllabus: Christianity, Buddhism, Hinduism, Islam, Judaism, Sikhism.

They contain key content in relation to the four RE concepts which underpin this syllabus:

Belief
Authority
Expressions of Belief
Impact of Belief

For further information on these RE concepts please see pages 10-11.

Content is outlined for each concept across Key Stages 1–3. This enables teachers to see how pupils’ learning can progress as they develop deeper knowledge and understanding of the religious traditions and the RE concepts.

Teachers should use the relevant programme of study when developing a Scheme of Work.

INTRODUCTION TO KEY STAGE SECTIONS

The following sections outline the requirements for RE from Early Years Foundation Stage to sixth form provision. Along with the Programme of Study they will assist schools in devising an appropriate Scheme of Work that will meet statutory requirements and enable all their pupils to make progress.

Early Years and Foundation Stage

This section contains an overview outlining the legal requirements and key learning in RE at this stage, a Programme of Study which teachers can select from, an exemplar plan and some examples of appropriate topics in RE with teaching activities and links to early learning goals.

Key Stages 1–3

There are four sections here to include Lower and Upper Key Stage 2.

Each section provides the following:

- Overview pages with key learning, time allocation, which religions are to be taught, key focus, learning outcomes, skills and attitudes to be developed. Reference is made to the appropriate RE levels, Programmes of Study and planning.
- Appropriate unit questions which can be used in devising a Scheme of Work and planning enquiry based learning.
- An exemplar plan for the year groups in the key stage.

Bridging Unit

This section contains information about the statutory bridging unit for Year 6/Year 7 students as they move from primary to secondary school.

Key Stage 4

This section contains an overview of legal and syllabus requirements, key learning and key focus, religions to be taught, time allocation and reference to RE levels and external assessment.

Sixth Form

This section contains legal requirements for community schools with a sixth form, and planning for RE in the sixth form. Examples of the type of units which can be explored with students at this age are included.

Teaching and Learning

The following page gives some examples of appropriate teaching and learning activities in RE.

Planning

When devising a Scheme of Work teachers should use the relevant key stage sections in this syllabus, the key focus, RE levels and the appropriate Programmes of Study. The section on enquiry based learning (pages 14-17) should be used along with the enquiry questions (pages 12-13).
Teaching and Learning Activities

The following offers a range of activities which can be used to develop good learning in RE. It is recommended that pupils are given the opportunity to visit at least one place of worship in every key stage and meet faith members through visits to school or use of technology (e.g. Skype, e-mail).

OVERVIEW OF RE IN THE EARLY YEARS FOUNDATION STAGE

The Early Years Foundation Stage describes the phase of a child’s education from birth to the end of the Reception year at the age of five. Religious Education becomes compulsory when children enter Reception and are placed on the school roll. Children in Reception should be following planning which meets Agreed Syllabus requirements. Sufficient time should be given to ensure that children receive their entitlement to RE: this can be organised to be in line with school planning for the Early Years Foundation Stage.

The statutory requirement for RE does not extend to the nursery. RE may, however, form a valuable part of the educational experience of children throughout the key stage and does make a significant contribution towards meeting the requirements of the Early Learning Goals. This Agreed Syllabus, therefore, highly recommends the inclusion of RE at nursery.

During the Early Years Foundation Stage, children may begin to explore the world of religion in terms of special people, books, times, places and objects and by visiting places of worship. They listen to and talk about stories. They may be introduced to religious words and concepts and use their senses in exploring religions and beliefs, practices and forms of expression. They reflect on their own feelings and experiences. They use their imagination and curiosity to develop their appreciation and wonder of the world in which they live. Topics such as Special Times, Special Objects, Special People, Special Books, Belonging, The Natural World, New Life, New Places, Story, provide excellent opportunities for foundation work in nursery and Reception and can be successfully built on at Key Stage 1.

The Contribution of RE to the Early Learning Goals

Apart from the worthwhile nature of RE itself, the subject can and does make a significant contribution to the Early Learning Goals, in particular:

- Personal, social and emotional development – children develop a positive sense of themselves and others to form positive relationships and develop respect for others. They learn how to manage their feelings and understand appropriate behaviour in groups
- Communication and language – children have opportunities to speak and listen in a range of situations and develop their confidence and skills in expressing themselves
- Literacy – children have access to a wide range of reading materials – books, poems and other written materials to ignite their interest
- Understanding the World – children make sense of their physical world and their community through opportunities to explore, observe and find out about people, places, technology and the environment
- Expressive arts and design – children explore and play with a wide range of media and materials, as well as providing opportunities and encouragement for sharing their thoughts, ideas and feelings through a variety of activities in art, music, movement, dance, role-play, and design and technology.

Some Points to Note

- Planning in RE at the Foundation Stage should take account of the elements of RE (see pages 5-7). Children should be introduced to some practices and beliefs within religion (Knowledge and Understanding of Religion) and be given opportunities to reflect on their own experiences and feelings (Personal Reflection).

- Whilst there are clearly strong links between RE and personal, social and emotional development, it must be noted that RE must contain appropriate and explicit references to religions through the study of religious beliefs and practice i.e. Personal Reflection in RE must be linked to Knowledge and Understanding of Religion.
A wide range of experiences and learning activities can be offered e.g. using pictures, objects, film, stories and poems, circle time, role play, dance, music, art, craft, ICT. Schools should ensure that children have the opportunity to engage with faith communities e.g. through handling artefacts that belong within the faith traditions, watching DVDs of real children celebrating in different faiths, visiting local places of worship and meeting members from faith communities. In this way children have the opportunity to glimpse the religious world without being nurtured into a faith.

All children should be included in RE, whether they belong to a faith community or not. Care should be taken in the use of language, activities and materials to ensure that all children can be included and any stereotyping is challenged (e.g. avoid saying, ‘We all believe …’).

Whilst children may take part in role play and re-enactments in RE lessons and can learn about religious practices in an interactive way, teachers should be clear that they are not asking children to ‘celebrate’ a religious practice or take part in worship within RE. Role play and developing empathy are not the same as worship within a religious community and RE in community schools is not about nurturing children into a faith (see legal requirements on page 3).

Pages 86-95 give some examples of a focus for RE in Nursery and Reception, with suggestions for appropriate activities and links to Early Learning Goals.

The new Early Years Foundation Stage will be implemented in September 2012. Children are expected to achieve the Early Learning Goals by the end of the Reception year. Practitioners should use the ‘Development Matters’ column in the ‘Practice Guidance for the Early Years Foundation Stage’ document to pitch each activity at an appropriate level.
Sunderland Agreed Syllabus 2012

PROGRAMME OF STUDY
Early Years Foundation Stage

Teachers can select material from the following sections. It is not expected that all aspects of the Programme of Study will be covered.

- Hinduism – Divali
- Islam – Eid
- Judaism – Sukkot, (link to Harvest), Hanukkah, Shabbat

Please note: Christmas and Easter in RE may be part of a wider topic on these festivals. The focus in RE should be on how Christians celebrate these festivals in the church.

Special Objects, Special Music

Children are introduced to the idea of sacred music and artefacts within a faith community.

- Christianity – e.g. cross, statues, vestments, church colours, Salvation Army uniform, different types of church music

- How sacred books teach believers about God and how to live e.g. through stories and special sayings.

Please note: the Qur’an should not be handled.
Special People

Children are introduced to the founders of some religions. They are introduced to members within faith communities today who have a role within the faith tradition.

- Guru Nanak as special to Sikhs – stories about the Guru
- Buddha as special to Buddhists – stories about him and his teaching
- Muhammad as special to Muslims – Muhammad as the prophet of God
- Moses as special to Jews
- People with a special role/vocation in religious communities today e.g. vicar, minister, priest, Salvation Army officer, nun, monk (Christianity), Jewish rabbi, Buddhist monk, imam at the mosque.

Belonging

Children are introduced to ceremonies which show belonging to the faith community. Children are introduced to religious rituals and promises / commitment shown through religious wedding ceremonies.

- Christianity – infant baptism, weddings
- Hinduism – Raksha Bandhan, weddings
- Islam – ceremonies connected with welcoming and naming a baby.

KEY STAGE 1

1. Overview of RE at Key Stage 1 .................................................. 98-99

2. Planning ..................................................................................... 100-101

3. Key Stage 1 Questions ............................................................... 102-103

4. Exemplar Plan ........................................................................... 104
OVERVIEW OF RE AT KEY STAGE 1

At Key Stage 1 children are introduced to some of the beliefs and features of a religion. In relation to their learning about these religious beliefs and practices, children are given the opportunity to express their views and reflect on their own ideas and feelings.

In Sunderland schools, children will be introduced to the beliefs and features of:

- Christianity (core religion)
- Buddhism (core religion).

Children will learn about these religions separately.

They may also be introduced to:

- one other religion (if appropriate)
- aspects of secular world views, if appropriate.

Most children at Key Stage 1 have a natural curiosity. They ask questions and wonder about life; they show a willingness to use their imagination and they have an intuitive sense of mystery in the world around them. Some children will have direct experience of religion from home; many will have none at all. It is important that teachers take into account the children’s varied background and experiences when devising a Scheme of Work.

The elements of RE are indicated as follows:

Knowledge and Understanding of Religion
Critical Thinking
Personal Reflection

For information about these three elements please refer to pages 5-7.

Key Focus of Learning at Key Stage 1

The following indicate the key focus of learning for the majority of children at Key Stage 1.

Children in Key Stage 1 are able to identify some beliefs and features of religion. In response to the religious material they learn about, children are able to express their views and give simple reasons to support these. In relation to religious material studied, children are able to reflect on their own feelings, ideas and values and be aware of the experiences and feelings of others.

Learning Outcomes at Key Stage 1

By the end of Key Stage 1 children will be able to:

- identify some of the beliefs of Christianity and Buddhism
- retell some stories within Christianity and Buddhism
- identify some ways in which Christians and Buddhists worship and celebrate special events
- use some religious words
- show some awareness of how some aspects are the same in both Christianity and Buddhism e.g. both have a special founder, stories, ways of worship
- express their views and give simple reasons in response to their learning about the beliefs, teachings and practices in Christianity and Buddhism
- reflect on their own beliefs, values and feelings in relation to what they have learnt about Christianity and Buddhism
• show awareness of and be sensitive to the thoughts, feelings, beliefs and experiences of others in relation to what they have learnt about Christianity and Buddhism.

Levels for RE

The learning outcomes above are based on the revised levels for RE on pages 30-33. Most children at Key Stage 1 will be working at levels 1 – 2. Teachers should ensure they use the key focus, outcomes and RE levels to pitch work appropriately. Learning outcomes and RE levels should be used for assessment and reporting.

NB: Knowledge and Understanding of Religion and Critical Thinking can be assessed. Progress can be made for Personal Reflection but this cannot be assessed.
PLANNING

Time Allocation

Religious Education should be taught in every year group throughout the key stage with sufficient time allocated to cover the Programmes of Study. The recommended time for this at Key Stage 1 is approximately 36 hours per year.

Ways of Delivery

RE can be delivered in a variety of ways, for example: a slot every week; an afternoon every few weeks, a suspended timetable day for RE (allowing for enquiry based research, a visit to a place of worship, a visitor to school). It is recommended that the short units on Christmas and Easter (approximately four hours) are delivered across one day or two afternoons.

Programmes of Study

The Programmes of Study on pages 36-71 identify the content which should be taught about each religion at Key Stage 1. They are organised to show appropriate content for the four RE concepts: Belief, Authority, Expressions of Belief, Impact of Belief. For further detail on the RE concepts see pages 10-11.

Teachers should ensure that the RE Scheme of Work covers the Programmes of Study at Key Stage 1 for Christianity and Buddhism (core religions). Teachers may also use the Programmes of Study at Key Stage 1 for supplementary religions. So that they are aware how pupils will build on Key Stage 1 learning, teachers should refer to the other key stages in the Programmes of Study.

Long Term Plan

The exemplar Long Term Plan on page 104 shows how the content in the Programmes of Study can be organised into units, each with a key question. Schools can use the exemplar plan or devise their own Long Term Plan based on the Programmes of Study for the statutory core religions and the supplementary religions (chosen at the discretion of the school).

Teaching and Learning Activities

A range of activities should be developed to ensure good learning in RE. Please see page 78 for some examples.
Skills

Children develop skills through the three elements of RE:

Knowledge and Understanding of Religion

Investigation and Enquiry
• asking relevant questions
• beginning to use different sources to gather information

Critical Thinking

Interpretation
• posing interesting or puzzling questions
• expressing their views and giving simple reasons in support

Personal Reflection

Empathy
• developing the power of imagination to identify feelings such as love, wonder, sorrow, forgiveness
• considering the thoughts, feelings, beliefs and experiences of others

Reflection and Response
• reflecting on their own feelings and experiences

Attitudes

Attitudes (see page 20) can be developed and should be planned for throughout Key Stage 1 e.g.

Self-awareness
• a sense of self-worth and value
• a sense of belonging

Respect
• sensitivity to the beliefs and feelings of others

Appreciation and Wonder
• a sense of wonder about the world
KEY STAGE 1 QUESTIONS

Christianity

These questions can be used for an extended unit of work e.g. what can we learn from visiting a church? Some questions could be explored within units as supplementary questions e.g.

How and why do Christians celebrate Harvest? (could be asked within the unit on a church visit).

What can we learn about Christianity from visiting a church?

What do Christians believe about God?

Why is the Bible special to Christians?

Why is Jesus special to Christians?

What is the meaning of Christmas?
  • Why are gifts given at Christmas?
  • How and why is light important at Christmas?

What can we learn from the story of Venerable Bede?

What does it mean to belong in Christianity?

What is the meaning of Easter?
  • What is the Easter story?
  • How do Christians celebrate Easter?

How and why do Christians celebrate Harvest?

LOWER KEY STAGE 2

1. Overview of RE at Lower Key Stage 2 .............................. 106-107

2. Planning ........................................................................... 108-109

3. Key Stage 2 Questions ..................................................... 110-112

4. Exemplar Plan ................................................................. 113
OVERVIEW OF RE AT LOWER KEY STAGE 2

At Lower Key Stage 2 pupils can build on their learning at Key Stage 1 as they develop a capacity to deepen their factual knowledge of religious beliefs and practices. They become more aware of themselves as individuals and begin to ask questions about human experiences, beliefs and ideas. In relation to the religious material studied, pupils develop the capacity to form their own reasoned opinions and reflect on their own feelings and ideas.

In Sunderland schools pupils will build on previous learning from Key Stage 1 and develop knowledge of the beliefs and features of:

- Christianity (core religion)
- either Islam or Sikhism (core religions). They will learn about these religions separately.

Pupils may also be introduced to:

- one other religion, if appropriate
- aspects of secular world views, if appropriate.

The elements of RE are indicated as follows:

Knowledge and Understanding of Religion
Critical Thinking
Personal Reflection

For information about these three elements please refer to pages 5-7.

Key Focus of Learning at Lower Key Stage 2

Pupils in Lower Key Stage 2 can describe some of the beliefs and features of religion.

In response to the religious material they learn about, pupils are able to express their views and support them using a plausible reason or reasons. They show some awareness of other people’s views.

In relation to religious material studied, pupils are able to reflect on their own feelings, ideas and values and appreciate that not all people think, feel and believe the same.

Learning Outcomes at Lower Key Stage 2

By the end of Year 4 pupils:

- will be able to describe beliefs and practices within Christianity and Islam or Sikhism e.g. describe ways in which Sikhs worship, describe some Christians beliefs about God, describe how and why Advent in important to Christians
- will link religious stories and teaching to the beliefs that underlie them e.g. belief in equality and commitment shown in story of Khalsa, belief in Jesus as Son of God shown through miracle stories
- will know some similarities and differences between Christianity and Islam or Christianity and Sikhism (e.g. similarity - belief in one God in Christianity, Islam and Sikhism; difference - differing ways in which the Bible and Guru Granth Sahib are handled)
• in response to the religious material:
  - give a view and support with a plausible reason
  - show awareness that some people have a different view

• in relation to the religious material:
  - reflect on their own beliefs, feelings, values, attitudes and experiences
  - show understanding that not all people respond to ideas and experiences in the same way
  - listen to others who have different views, beliefs, practices from their own.

Levels for RE

The learning outcomes above are based on the revised levels for RE on pages 30-33. Most pupils at Lower Key Stage 2 will be working at level 3. Teachers should ensure they use the key focus, outcomes and RE levels to pitch work appropriately.

Learning outcomes and RE levels should be used for assessment and reporting.

NB: Knowledge and Understanding of Religion and Critical Thinking can be assessed.

Progress can be made for Personal Reflection but this cannot be assessed.
PLANNING

Time Allocation

Religious Education should be taught in every year group throughout the key stage with sufficient time allocated to cover the Programmes of Study. The recommended time for this at Lower Key Stage 2 is approximately 45 hours per year.

Ways of Delivery

RE can be delivered in a variety of ways, for example: a slot every week; an afternoon every few weeks, a suspended timetable day for RE (allowing for enquiry based research, a visit to a place of worship, a visitor to school). It is recommended that the short units on Christmas and Easter (approximately four hours) are delivered across one day or two afternoons.

Programmes of Study

The Programmes of Study on pages 36-71 identify the content which should be taught about each religion at Lower Key Stage 2. They are organised to show appropriate content for the four RE concepts: Belief, Authority, Expressions of Belief, Impact of Belief. For further detail on the RE concepts see pages 10-11.

Teachers should ensure that the RE Scheme of Work covers the Programmes of Study at Key Stage 2 for Christianity and Islam or Sikhism (core religions). Lower Key Stage 2 teachers should liaise with Upper Key Stage 2 teachers to ensure the core religions and relevant Programmes of Study are covered (i.e. if Sikhism is studied in Lower Key Stage 2, Islam should be studied in Upper Key Stage 2 and vice versa). Teachers may also use the Programmes of Study at Key Stage 2 for supplementary religions.

Teachers should look at the Key Stage 1 sections of the Programmes of Study (in particular for Christianity) and build on previous learning. In the case of Junior schools there should be liaison with the contributory Infant school to address continuity and progression appropriately.

Long Term Plan

The exemplar Long Term Plan on page 113 shows how the content in the Programmes of Study can be organised into units, each with a key question. Schools can use the exemplar plan or devise their own Long Term Plan based on the Programmes of Study for the statutory core religions and the supplementary religions (chosen at the discretion of the school).

Teaching and Learning Activities

A range of activities should be developed to ensure good learning in RE. Please see page 78 for some examples.

Reflection and Response
- reflecting on their own feelings and experiences
- developing a personal interest and curiosity in puzzling, searching and challenging questions

Attitudes – (see page 20) can be developed and should be planned for throughout Key Stage 2 e.g.

Self-awareness
- a sense of self-worth and value
- a sense of belonging
- developing the capacity to consider one’s own beliefs, values and attitudes

Respect
- sensitivity to the beliefs and feelings of others

UPPER KEY STAGE 2

1. Overview of RE at Upper Key Stage 2 .................................. 116-117

2. Planning ........................................................................... 118-119

3. Key Stage 2 Questions ...................................................... 120-122

4. Exemplar Plan ................................................................... 123
OVERVIEW OF RE AT UPPER KEY STAGE 2

At Upper Key Stage 2 pupils increase knowledge and develop understanding of the beliefs and features of religion. They develop an ability to investigate and enquire independently. They become more aware of the wider world in which they live and the impact of religion on individuals and communities. In relation to the religious material studied, pupils continue to develop their capacity to form their own reasoned opinions and reflect on their own feelings and ideas. They develop the capacity to listen to differing points of view and see the world through the eyes of others.

In Sunderland schools pupils will build on previous learning from Lower Key Stage 2 and develop understanding of the beliefs and features of:

- Christianity (core religion)
- either Islam or Sikhism (core religions), whichever of these 2 core religions was not taught at Lower Key Stage 2.
- one other supplementary religion (Buddhism, Islam, Judaism) or aspects from these religions.

If appropriate, pupils may:
- study another religious community, with a significant local presence
- be introduced to aspects of secular world views.

The core religions will generally need to be taught separately to continue to develop the pupils' understanding of the distinctive features of each religion. Where appropriate, however, content can be drawn from more than one religion to illustrate common concepts and themes e.g. How do religious people show care for others? How and why do people use ritual in their lives?

The three elements of RE are indicated as follows:

Knowledge and Understanding of Religion
Critical Thinking
Personal Reflection

For information about these three elements please refer to pages 5-7.

Key Focus of Learning at Upper Key Stage 2

Pupils in Upper Key Stage 2 will demonstrate understanding of some of the beliefs and features of religion through the RE concepts.

In response to the religious material they learn about, pupils can express their own views using sound reasons. Pupils show understanding of differing views and can give reasons to support an opposing view (i.e. they can see both sides of an argument).

In relation to religious material studied, pupils can reflect on their own beliefs, ideas, feelings and values and develop empathy for people with differing beliefs and experiences.
Learning Outcomes at Upper Key Stage 2

By the end of Year 6 pupils can:

- show understanding of the beliefs and practices within Christianity and describe some ways in which these make a difference to people’s lives
- show understanding of the beliefs and practices within Islam/Sikhism and describe some ways in which these make a difference to people’s lives
- describe some similarities and differences within Christianity and between religions
- show understanding of the RE concepts (Belief, Authority, Expressions of Belief, Impact of Belief)
- in response to the religious material will:
  - express their views and support with sound reasons
  - outline an opposing view and give at least one sound reason to support this
- in relation to the religious material:
  - reflect on and consider their own beliefs, feelings, values, attitudes and experiences
  - listen to and learn from others about their beliefs, feelings, values, attitudes and experiences
- see the world through the eyes of others and see issues from their point of view

Levels for RE

The learning outcomes above are based on the revised levels for RE on pages 30-33. Most pupils at Upper Key Stage 2 will be working at levels 3 – 5. Teachers should ensure they use the key focus, outcomes and RE levels to pitch work appropriately.

Learning outcomes and RE levels should be used for assessment and reporting.

NB: Knowledge and Understanding of Religion and Critical Thinking can be assessed.

Progress can be made for Personal Reflection but this cannot be assessed.
PLANNING

Time Allocation

Religious Education should be taught in every year group throughout the key stage with sufficient time allocated to cover the Programmes of Study. The recommended time for this at Upper Key Stage 2 is approximately 45 hours per year.

Ways of Delivery

RE can be delivered in a variety of ways, for example: a slot every week; an afternoon every few weeks, a suspended timetable day for RE (allowing for enquiry based research, a visit to a place of worship, a visitor to school). It is recommended that the short units on Christmas and Easter (approximately four hours) are delivered across one day or two afternoons.

Programmes of Study

The Programmes of Study on pages 36-71 identify the content which should be taught about each religion at Upper Key Stage 2. They are organised to show appropriate content for the four RE concepts: Belief, Authority, Expressions of Belief, Impact of Belief. For further detail on the RE concepts see pages 10-11.

Teachers should ensure that the RE Scheme of Work covers the Programmes of Study at Key Stage 2 for Christianity and Islam or Sikhism (core religions). Upper Key Stage 2 teachers should liaise with Lower Key Stage 2 teachers to ensure the core religions and relevant Programmes of Study are covered. Teachers may also use the Programmes of Study at Key Stage 2 for supplementary religions.

Teachers should look at the Key Stage 1 sections of the Programmes of Study (in particular for Christianity) and build on previous learning.

Teachers should also refer to Key Stage 3 sections of the Programmes of Study (in particular for Christianity) to ensure continuity and progression for pupils. Please see section on RE bridging unit on pages 125-127.

Long Term Plan

The exemplar Long Term Plan on page 123 shows how the content in the Programmes of Study can be organised into units, each with a key question. Schools can use the exemplar plan or devise their own Long Term Plan based on the Programmes of Study for the statutory core religions and the supplementary religions (chosen at the discretion of the school).

BRIDGING UNIT KEY STAGE 2/KEY STAGE 3

Overview

If pupils are to make good progress in RE at Key Stage 3 and Key Stage 4, it is crucial that effective liaison has taken place between primary and secondary schools.

Transition from primary to secondary is often problematic with regard to continuity and progression. Pupils’ experiences of RE in primary schools will be varied, particularly if secondary schools have a number of primary partners. Some partners may be aided schools which follow a different syllabus. For this reason, this bridging unit has been designed to promote continuity and progression of learning about Christianity which is a core religion in both this syllabus and diocesan syllabuses. It is also based on developing learning about the RE concepts which are a common component of this Agreed Syllabus at all key stages.

The bridging unit questions for Year 6 and Year 7 are statutory for all schools, thus ensuring that secondary schools can develop effective liaison with all their partner schools.

The bridging unit aims to:
- provide Year 6 pupils with a positive curriculum whilst consolidating and reinforcing prior learning;
- give Year 7 students an appropriate starting point as they use their prior knowledge of Christianity to develop knowledge and understanding of the key RE concepts.
- give Key Stage 3 teachers a framework on which to build and develop learning at Key Stage 3.

Requirements

These unit questions are statutory and should be taught to all pupils. Secondary school Heads of Department may find that aided primary schools will be willing to follow this RE unit in the Summer Term.

Year 6 Unit Question: What do we now know about Christianity?

Year 7 Unit Question: How do the RE concepts help us understand religion?

The Key Stage 2 unit should be taught in Year 6, preferably in the second half of the Summer Term. The unit could be taught as weekly lessons or in blocks of time e.g. three afternoons, full day.

The Key Stage 3 unit should be taught at the beginning of Year 7.

Breadth of Study

Year 6
Content should be drawn from the Christianity Programme of Study for Key Stage 2 (all concepts).

Year 7
Content should be drawn from the Programme of Study for Christianity and at least one core religion at Key Stage 3. The Key Stage 3 Programme of Study for supplementary religions may also be used.
Planning and Implementation

It is anticipated that teachers in both phases will work in partnership to design and adapt units on the two key questions. Whilst it is appreciated that this cannot always take place through meetings, contact could be made through e-mail, letters or by telephone.

Because it is the secondary school that holds partner primary schools in common, the secondary Head of Department should generally organise liaison. Primary RE co-ordinators should ensure that partner secondary schools receive the Long Term Plan for RE from the primary school and information about pupil attainment and achievement in RE.

What do we now know about Christianity? (Year 6 Unit Question)

Subsidiary Questions and Key Content

- What do Christians believe about:
  - God?
  - Jesus?
  - The Easter Story? (Belief)

- What do Christians believe about the Bible and why is this important? (Authority)

- How do Christians express their beliefs through:
  - worship in church (including at Christmas and Easter)?
  - ritual and symbols?
  - journeys to sacred places? (Expressions of Belief)

- What difference does being a Christian make to people’s lives through e.g.:
  - caring for others?
  - caring for the environment? (Impact of Belief)

- What do we know about Christianity in our local area?

Learning Outcomes for the Year 6 Unit

Through this unit pupils will be able to:

OVERVIEW OF RE AT KEY STAGE 3

Many students at this stage begin to question the relevance of religion and become more critical. This provides teachers with the basis to build on knowledge, understanding and experiences gained in the primary years, and to introduce a more complex study of religion. The application of higher order skills becomes more and more important if pupils are to make progress in relation to the three elements of RE: Knowledge and Understanding of Religion, Critical Thinking, Personal Reflection.

At Key Stage 3 students develop an increasingly sophisticated knowledge and depth of understanding of religion and beliefs. They have the capacity to connect the differing aspects of religion and RE concepts and explain the impact that religion and belief can have for individuals and local, national and global communities. They can suggest lines of enquiry and undertake independent investigations into a range of enquiry questions, including theological, philosophical, sociological and ethical questions connected with religion and beliefs. They can critically evaluate their own and others’ views about a range of issues and distinguish between different types of evidence. They can use their growing self-awareness positively to think about and refine their own ideas, beliefs, values and attitudes.

In Sunderland schools, students will build on previous learning from Key Stage 2 and develop sophisticated knowledge and understanding of the beliefs and features of:

- Christianity (core religion)
- Hinduism (core religion)
- Judaism (core religion)
- aspects of Buddhism, Islam, Sikhism (supplementary religions)
- a religious community with a significant local presence, where appropriate e.g. Bahá’í, Islam
- secular world views, where appropriate.

Content may be drawn from more than one religion to explore key issues and themes. Core religions should also be taught separately to ensure students understand what is distinctive about each religion and can develop understanding of how the RE concepts connect within a religious tradition.

The three elements of RE are indicated as follows:

Knowledge and Understanding of Religion

Critical Thinking

Personal Reflection

For information about these three elements please refer to pages 5-7.
Key Focus of Learning at Key Stage 3

Students in Key Stage 3 can demonstrate how the RE concepts (Belief, Authority, Expressions of Belief, Impact of Belief) connect in order to show understanding of what religion is.

In response to the religious material they learn about, students can evaluate their own and differing views, distinguishing between belief, opinion, fact, experience, and recognising bias. They can give cogent reasons for a range of views using evidence, factual information and persuasive argument (i.e. this is about quality of evidence and reasoning).

In relation to religious material studied, students are able to reflect on their own beliefs, ideas, feelings and values and appreciate how their beliefs may have an impact for others.

Levels for RE

The key focus above shows the general pitch of work for students throughout Key Stage 3. They are based on the revised levels for RE on pages 30-33 as are the learning outcomes below.

Teachers will plan work at Key Stage 3 using levels 3 – 7.

If the Key Stage 3 curriculum is two years (Years 7 and 8) the expected level for the majority of students at the end of the key stage will be level 5.

If the Key Stage 3 curriculum is three years (Years 7 to 9) the expected level for the majority of students at the end of the key stage will be level 6.

Learning outcomes and RE levels should be used for assessment and reporting.

NB: Knowledge and Understanding of Religion and Critical Thinking can be assessed. Progress can be made for Personal Reflection but this cannot be assessed.

Learning Outcomes at Key Stage 3

By the end of Year 8 students can:

- demonstrate how the RE concepts connect, with particular reference to core religions
- show understanding of what religion is
- show understanding of the impact of religious and non-religious beliefs on individuals and communities, with particular reference to Christian, Hindu and Jewish beliefs
- show understanding of why people belong to religions
- show how similarities and differences between religions and within a religious tradition are linked to distinctive beliefs
- show how sources of authority within a religion are used to provide answers to philosophical and ethical questions
- show how religious, spiritual and moral expression may vary within and between religions
- show several sides to an argument and give sound reasons to justify some views
- reflect on and consider their own beliefs, feelings, values, attitudes and experiences
- understand where their ideas and beliefs come from
By the end of Year 9 students can:

- demonstrate how the RE concepts connect, with particular reference to core religions
- explain why there is diversity between religions
- explain why there is diversity within particular religious traditions e.g. Christianity, Hinduism, Judaism
- give reasons why the impact of religious and non-religious beliefs on individuals, communities and societies can vary
- show understanding of how and why sources of authority may be used differently within a religion to provide answers to philosophical and ethical questions
- interpret the significance of varied forms of religious, spiritual and moral expression within and between religions
- evaluate a range of differing views and give cogent reasons for these differing viewpoints
- evaluate their own views and give cogent reasons for their views
- distinguish between different types of evidence used in forming opinions and giving reasons
- reflect on and consider their own beliefs, feelings, values, attitudes and experiences
- recognise and acknowledge their own bias in beliefs, values and attitudes
- appreciate how their beliefs and values may have an impact on others
PLANNING

Time Allocation

Religious Education should be taught in every year group throughout the key stage with sufficient time allocated to cover the Programmes of Study. The recommended time for this at Key Stage 3 is approximately 45 hours per year.

Programmes of Study

The Programmes of Study on pages 36-71 identify the content which should be taught about each religion at Key Stage 3. They are organised to show appropriate content for the four RE concepts: Belief, Authority, Expressions of Belief, Impact of Belief. For further detail on the RE concepts see pages 10-11.

Teachers should ensure that the RE Scheme of Work covers the Programmes of Study at Key Stage 3 for Christianity, Hinduism and Judaism (core religions) and the supplementary religions, as appropriate.

Teachers should refer to the Key Stage 2 sections of the Programmes of Study (in particular for Christianity) and build on previous learning.

Heads of RE should liaise with primary partners in order to ensure there is continuity and progression in RE learning for students. In particular they should:

• liaise with primary partners over the statutory bridging units: What do we now know about Christianity? (Year 6) and How do the RE concepts help us understand religion? (Year 7)
• ask primary partners for their RE Long Term Plan and information on pupil attainment and achievement in RE.

Please see section on RE bridging unit on pages 125-127.

Long Term Plan

The exemplar Long Term Plans on pages 138-139 show how the content in the Programmes of Study can be organised into units, each with a key question. The plan on page 138 is appropriate if Key Stage 3 is two years. The plan on page 139 is appropriate if Key Stage 3 is three years. Schools can use the exemplar plans or devise their own Long Term Plans based on the Programmes of Study for the statutory core religions and the supplementary religions (chosen at the discretion of the school).

Teaching and Learning Activities

A range of activities should be developed to ensure good learning in RE. Please see page 78 for some examples.

These skills can be developed further throughout Key Stage 3, building on development in Key Stage 1 and 2.

KEY STAGE 4

Overview of RE at Key Stage 4 ............................................... 142-143

- Introduction
- Requirements
- Time Allocation
- Planning for Progression
- Key Focus of Learning at Key Stage 4
OVERVIEW OF RE AT KEY STAGE 4

Introduction

At this key stage many students are inclined to be sceptical but retain their enthusiasm to consider questions of meaning at a deeper and more personal level. This provides teachers with a basis to build on the foundation of knowledge and understanding of religion gained at preceding stages. Students will continue to develop capacity for critical thinking as they evaluate religious material, using the skills of interpretation and expression to analyse their own and other people’s views and reasons. They will widen their ability to develop personal insight, reflecting on both their own beliefs, ideas, feelings and values, and those of others, whilst developing the ability to live with uncertainty and ambiguity.

Requirements

Schools should provide Religious Education for every student in accordance with legal requirements. Religious Education remains a statutory subject for all registered students at Key Stage 4, including students in Year 11.

Schools should plan for continuity of provision of Religious Education from Key Stage 3 for all students. Teachers should ensure that RE at Key Stage 4 builds on previous learning and enables students to make progress that is appropriate for their age and ability.

This syllabus requires that all students aged 14–16, should be taught through a course in Religious Education or Religious Studies leading to an accredited qualification approved under Section 96*.

While there is no legal requirement that students must sit public examinations, students deserve the opportunity to have their learning in the statutory curriculum subject of Religious Education accredited.

At Key Stage 4 the pupils must study at least two religions, one of which must be Christianity.

Less emphasis should be placed at this stage on the outward elements of religion in favour of addressing what can be learned from religion. Increasingly, the pupils should be encouraged to consider non-religious views of the world.

*Section 96 of the Learning and Skills Act 2000. This requires maintained schools to provide only qualifications approved by the Secretary of State.
Time Allocation

Religious Education should be taught in each year group throughout the Key Stage (including Year 11) and with sufficient curriculum time allocated to cover the examination specification and enable all students to make progress in line with their age and ability. The school should ensure that the recommended curriculum time for externally accredited courses is allocated.

Planning for Progression

The key focus below shows the general pitch of work for students throughout Key Stage 4. It is based on the revised levels for RE on pages 30-33. Teachers should use levels 5 – 7 and the assessment objectives and grade descriptions in the chosen examination specifications, to pitch and assess student work.

If Key Stage 3 is two years (Years 7 and 8), the expected level for the majority of students beginning the Key Stage 4 curriculum in Year 9 will be level 5.
If Key Stage 3 is three years (Years 7 to 9), the expected level for the majority of students beginning the Key Stage 4 curriculum in Year 10 will be level 6.

The three elements of RE are indicated as follows:

Knowledge and Understanding of Religion

Critical Thinking

Personal Reflection

For information about these three elements please refer to pages 5-7.

Key Focus of Learning at Key Stage 4

Students will demonstrate coherent understanding of what religion and belief is.

In response to the religious material they learn about, students recognise that some issues that relate to religion and beliefs are complex. They explore and identify a variety of viewpoints, analysing and evaluating the differing types of evidence used. They are able to make a persuasive case, using coherent arguments to support their views. They question assumptions and explore the origins of a range of opinions, including their own. They can represent and critically evaluate the views of others, including those they do not agree with.

In relation to religious material studied, students will be able to evaluate beliefs, ideas, feelings and values both in relation to themselves and others.

SIXTH FORM

1. Overview of RE in the Sixth Form ........................................... 146-147

2. Post 16 General RE Units ...................................................... 148-158
OVERVIEW OF RE IN THE SIXTH FORM

RE is a statutory subject for all registered students, including students in a school sixth form, except those withdrawn by their parents (or withdrawing themselves if they are aged 18 or over).

RE for sixth form students should reflect their increasing maturity and should enable them to broaden and deepen their knowledge and understanding of religion and beliefs today. Students should be provided with learning experiences and opportunities which will allow them to develop their own thinking on religious, philosophical, social and moral issues, drawing on distinctive features of Christianity, other principal world religions and secular viewpoints. Teachers should present materials in such a way that students have the opportunity to deepen their insight into their own beliefs, values and attitudes (Personal Reflection). Students should also be given opportunities to critically evaluate religious and non-religious truths, ideas and values on life, purpose and meaning (Critical Thinking).

Teachers should build on knowledge, skills and understanding gained in previous key stages and give opportunity for further development of skills and attitudes.

External Accreditation

It is recommended that schools provide opportunities for students to choose Religious Studies as an externally accredited course (AS / A2 Religious Studies) if they wish to.

Planning for RE in Sixth Form

Schools can decide the best way to deliver statutory RE. The following are some ways RE could be delivered to all students:

- Regular timetabled RE lessons for all students – this could be based on a school designed Scheme of Work or could follow an externally accredited course (e.g. full course Religious Studies GCSE, AS and A2 Religious Studies).
- RE lessons within a General Studies programme.
- RE sessions as part of a rolling tutorial/enrichment programme.
- Suspended timetable opportunities (e.g. full or half day) with focus on a particular RE theme or a cross curricular theme. A conference could be held with a variety of workshops and visiting speakers from local faith communities.
- Part of sixth form enrichment week.

In order that all students receive their entitlement to RE, schools should ensure that RE takes place within the school day and is made accessible to all students.
The Scheme of Work for General RE

The following pages contain some units which can be used to develop a school based Scheme of Work for general RE at sixth form.

When planning a Scheme of Work, schools should ensure that students have the opportunity to explore all the forms of enquiry questions outlined in this syllabus (see page 12): philosophical questions, sociological questions, phenomenological questions, theological questions, ethical questions. The following units focus predominantly on the enquiry questions indicated:

- Is Britain religiously diverse? (Sociological Question)
- Ultimate questions e.g. Does God exist? (Philosophical Question)
- Should we care about the environment? (Ethical Question)
- What is the value of human life? (Theological Question, Philosophical Question)
POST 16 GENERAL RE UNITS

Is Britain religiously diverse?

Overview

Suggested Approaches
- Religious and non-religious teaching about humanity, purpose and value of human life, equality (race, age, gender, disability).

- A sixth form RE Conference could be held: What does it mean to be human? A variety of members from religious and non-religious communities (e.g. Humanism) could be invited to make short presentation addressing this question. Students could be given the opportunity to respond to these presentations and ask further questions.

Students could be given the opportunity to respond to these presentations and ask further questions. Workshops could be held to discuss and evaluate particular issues within this topic e.g. the portrayal of death in media and within literature. This conference could be held as part of a wider PSHE programme.

OVERVIEW OF RE IN SPECIAL SCHOOLS

Community and foundation special schools must follow the legal requirement to provide RE for every pupil, 'so far as practicable'. (*)

It is recognised that there are many different types of special schools, each with their own specific circumstances. Teachers will need to use their professional judgement when planning RE, so that provision allows for continuity and progression and is accessible, meaningful, and meets the varying needs and abilities of all pupils irrespective of age.

Teachers should aim to develop knowledge and understanding of Christianity, and select as appropriate from the range of other religious traditions outlined in this syllabus.

Content can be drawn from any of the Programmes of Study, regardless of the key stage.

RE can be delivered in a variety of ways, for example: a slot every week; an afternoon every few weeks, a suspended timetable day (allowing for a visit, visitor and/or a full day for RE).

Planning Guidance for Special Schools

• The school can select which religions pupils will learn in each phase. The school may wish to organise planning so that all pupils are learning about the same religion at the same time. Christianity should appear in every phase.

• Any of the Programmes of Study from across the key stages can be used to meet the range of needs of pupils.

• Special schools need not follow the exemplar Long Term Plans for main stream schools. However, the format might help schools to devise their own Long Term Plan (i.e. a series of unit questions for each class).

• Unit questions should be designed which show what pupils will learn. Schools may wish to make use of examples of unit questions which appear in this Agreed Syllabus.

• Units of work may appear more than once in a Long Term Plan to allow for progression.

• Each unit of work should comprise a series of lessons which show how the unit will be achieved. Each lesson should have a key question. Content can be drawn from any of the Programmes of Study.

• Plans should provide learning opportunities for developing knowledge and understanding of religion, personal reflection and where, appropriate, critical thinking. Opportunities should be planned for the development of skills and attitudes.

NB Schools can use their own assessment methods in relation to RE. P levels for RE are not a requirement but may help in pitching work appropriately.

The following pages are two examples of a focus for RE which could be used in special schools.

Isobel Short, Inspector for Religious Education, visited your academy on 27 March 2012 in order to carry out an audit of teaching and learning, leadership and management in Religious Education (RE). The following is the summary of the observations and judgements as well as any action agreed with the academy as recorded in the Extended Management System database.

Isobel observed 3 part lessons and discussed several issues with the leaders of RE.

Below are the strengths identified and some points to consider.

TEACHING AND LEARNING

Strengths identified in some or all lessons

- Lessons are well ordered and organised. There are good relationships between teachers and students. This is leading to good student behaviour.
- Students are provided with an overview sheet for each unit with key objectives, targets and vocabulary. These enable students to develop a ‘big picture’ and make sense of their learning.
- Some resources used are well prepared and lead to student engagement and challenge.
- There is a clear focus on improvement and progress, especially through use of peer assessment and constructive comments to improve the quality of student work.
- Some lessons incorporate development of wider skills, including working as a team, independent learning and self-management.
- There is good use of a variety of activities e.g. use of music, effective questioning. Some lessons seen focus clearly on developing skills for success in exams.

Points to consider

- Ensure all teachers have high expectations for all students andenable students to work at an appropriate level. (There is evidence of low level challenge and lack of differentiation).
- Ensure students clearly understand the purpose of learning and how particular pieces of work fit into the ‘bigger picture of learning’ (this is more than knowing learning objectives but is understanding the relevance of learning and how work builds on previous learning for the development of greater knowledge and understanding).
- Ensure all activities are engaging in order to motivate and challenge students.
- Ensure lesson learning objectives are appropriate and match unit objectives.
- Ensure lessons are planned to develop and connect learning so that each activity consolidates or builds on previous learning.
LEADERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT

Strengths

- There is a shared understanding across the Directorate about the key focus and purpose of RE as an academic, inclusive subject. Opportunities to develop enrichment are being explored. There is a good understanding of the distinctiveness of subjects within the Directorate but also how appropriate work can be planned across these curriculum areas. Policies are being developed within the Directorate.
- The RE leader demonstrates clarity about her current vision for RE in the school:
  - to raise the profile of RE as an engaging and relevant subject amongst students, staff, and parents
  - to raise achievement of all students.
- The leader is taking responsibility for the direction of the subject and making some sound decisions e.g. choice of Key Stage 4 course, core religions at Key Stage 4, strategies for marking.
- The leaders in RE jointly monitored lessons for this audit. They accurately evaluated the strengths and weaknesses seen, especially in relation to the pitch of work and subject knowledge.

Points to consider

- Develop new schemes of work in line with the newly revised Agreed Syllabus to take account of:
  - core religions and appropriate key focus for Key Stage 3
  - developing an appropriate programme in Year 9 for the introduction of Full Course GCSE.
- Develop the ‘big picture’ of learning for each unit further by outlining an appropriate overview for learning. Teachers should refer to this in each lesson so that students can see how new learning ‘fits in’ to this picture.
- Produce a policy/publicity leaflet for school leaders, students, parents to address:
  - What is RE and why is it important?
  - What is covered in RE in the academy?
  - What is teaching and learning like in RE?
  - What expectations are there on students?
  - What enrichment opportunities are there in RE? This could be developed across the Directorate.
- Consider a range of specific strategies for raising the profile of the subject in the academy e.g. Inter-Faith Day, visits to places of worship.
- Develop monitoring within department (as well as across the school and Directorate) with clear subject focus eg work scrutiny:
  - Senior Leadership Team: formative marking for improvement
  - Directorate: how activities and learning objectives build up a picture of learning
  - RE Leader: How good is subject knowledge?; Are learning objectives appropriate?; Do activities develop good RE?; Are levels being used accurately?
- Develop formal opportunities for training in the implementation of Agreed Syllabus across department.
