World Book Day and the Book Fair

Dear Parents and Carers,

It's that time of year again! World Book Day is on Thursday 5th March 2015. To celebrate this event we would like to invite all children to come dressed up as their favourite book character. From Harry Potter to the Gruffalo, the choices are endless. Whilst fancy dress shops offer a wide selection of choices, some of the best costumes are the ones put together at home, so we encourage you to be as creative as possible. There will be prizes within each year group for the most original costumes.

On the day itself, we are dedicating the entire day's learning at Kelvin Grove to all things English. This will mean that the children will enjoy a double English lesson where they will plan, write and edit their own stories. These individual stories will be collated into a whole school storybook, which you will be able to view at a later date. Reading is such an important part of children's learning in English so the older children in the school will have the opportunity to pair up with a younger class in the school for shared reading.

The book fair arrives in school on Friday 27th February and will be here until Wednesday 4th March. It will be in the Music Room and books will be available for purchase from 3.15 till 3.45pm each day. Please do come and visit with your child and buy a book or two. All proceeds raised from the Book Fair will go towards buying new books for the classroom book corners.

Thank you in advance for your support.

Kind regards,

Miss Oppong
