

THE KING ALFRED SCHOOL

PASTORAL POLICY

1.0 INTRODUCTION

- 1.1 Throughout its existence the school has put child-centred learning at the heart of its work and holds pastoral education to be as important as academic education.
- 1.2 For this approach to teaching and learning to be effective and successful, it is crucial that all teachers have as much knowledge as possible of the students in their care; this is applicable to all teachers, both as subject specialists and form tutors.
- 1.3 Pastoral care can be defined as the awareness that the whole child as an individual has to be considered when decisions and judgements are being made. We are a child centred school and we recognise the importance of emotional wellbeing. We believe that a child cannot flourish unless their emotional intelligence is nurtured.
- 1.4 We believe that positive tutor/pupil/parent relationships provide the foundations for an effective pastoral policy.

2.0 AIMS

- 2.1 Our aim is for students to leave as secure, confident and responsible individuals who have a personal sense of identity and pride in all their achievements.
- 2.2 We want them to develop a sense of responsibility for themselves and others, the environment and society.
- 2.3 We aim to give students the understanding and resilience to enjoy a fulfilling and happy life.

3.0 PRINCIPLES

3.1 Pastoral care involves looking after the personal and social wellbeing of all students in the school. It includes a range of matters, such as the social and ethical issues, behaviour, emotions and physical condition. The fundamental principles of pastoral care, expected of all teachers, are:

- Respect
- Sensitivity
- Confidentiality
- Insight
- Empathy
- Encouragement
- Fairness

4.0 THE PASTORAL TEAM – ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

4.3 UPPER SCHOOL (Year 7 to Year 13): The Assistant Head (Pastoral) has overall responsibility for the provision of care throughout Upper School and needs to ensure that care is effective and evident. 5.0 PASTORAL CARE IN THE CURRICULUM

5.1 The school aims to provide a safe and caring community in which students can flourish and grow in accordance to the principles and practices outlined above. In keeping with the school's traditions, there is an expectation that teaching and learning takes place everywhere and anywhere and at any point in life.

- 5.2 There are many examples of activities which are held in addition to normal lessons which are designed to help develop personal and social wellbeing. These include: pupils' councils, circle time, mentoring and peer support, Callovers, whole school enrichment, choice periods, after school clubs, camp, school trips, work experience and private study time.

6.0 PROCEDURES

- 6.1 Parents are encouraged to contact their child's teacher in Lower School or form tutor in Upper School as appropriate if they have any concerns or worries. Urgent concerns are given immediate attention.
- 6.2 Parents are encouraged to share any information about home circumstances or medical matters which may affect the children's well-being and behaviour in school.
- 6.3 Any sensitive information will be treated as confidential, unless it is felt beneficial for the pupil's welfare that relevant staff should be informed. In these circumstances consent from parents will be sought to pass on the information to staff who meet regularly to discuss and review pastoral care issues.
- 6.4 When a student/ teacher/ pupil/ parent reports an incident, the usual procedure would be to contact the class teacher/ tutor as the first point of contact in the school. If the problem persists they should liaise with the Deputy Head of Lower School, Head of Year or the Assistant Head (Pastoral Care) as appropriate. The Head is regularly informed of pastoral issues.
- 6.4 The school cannot promise the unconditional confidentiality of information in a situation where a child may be in danger or where a child's welfare may be threatened. The school has a legal responsibility to share information with other agencies in order to safeguard children. In making decisions about what to share the needs of the child are considered as paramount. There is a separate document detailing guidelines for staff (Child Protection Procedure – Guidelines for Staff).
- 6.5 On rare occasions, some incidents may be dealt with immediately by the Deputy Head or Assistant Head (Pastoral) who may decide to seek advice from The Head and the Child Protection Team (See the Safeguarding Children policy).
