MESSAGE FROM THE HEAD OF SCHOOL

In this newsletter the Head Girl, Head Boy and some of the Senior Prefects have shared their experiences of life during lockdown.

We are very impressed with all of the artwork that is being produced by the children at home and wanted to share some more in this newsletter.

The children have also been completing some excellent work in Science and English and the English department have set up an English Instagram page for the children to share their work with their peers.

Stay safe and well.

Mr Alexander

HOME WORKING HEROES OF THE WEEK

RE
Lilia Dobson (Year 10) who has continued to submit work of the highest standard throughout lockdown, and is always punctual with her email contact.

Ivo Angelov (Year 8) for his truly tremendous Sin and Forgiveness Comic.

HISTORY
Freddie Carini-Jenns (Year 7) for completing all of the work set and for asking for extra work.

Joshua Clark and Mia Friend (Year 10) for their hard work.

Chloe Lacey (Year 10) for working through the Geography text book with her mum to complete additional work.

SCIENCE
Paige McNulty (Year 10) for her excellent effort and quality of work above and beyond what is expected.

MFL
Finlay Garrett (Year 10) for his fantastic motivation to further his Spanish studies independently.

ENGLISH
Veronika Ramm (Year 10) for her beautiful revision resource for the Conflict Poetry unit that Year 10 are studying for their remote learning.

Paige Barlow (Year 10) for going above and beyond every week and for asking for feedback. Paige also submits her amazing poetry within the first couple of days.

FOOD TECHNOLOGY
Rebecca Day (Year 9), Ella Bryant (Year 10), Evelyn Salisbury (Year 10) and Heather Halsey (Year 10) have all scored 100% in the five multiple choice quizzes set on various topics so far via SMHW. Big congratulations to them all.

Freddie Carini-Jenns (Year 7) for all of the baking he has done. He has been very busy over the past eight weeks baking either on his own or as a video call with his family. He has baked chocolate cheesecake muffins, banana muffins, blueberry muffins, dutch apple cake, bread rolls, gingerbread, banana pancakes and chocolate chip muffins. Fantastic!

MATHS
Charlie Marsden (Year 7) for completing all of his tasks.

Class 8T1 for 99.9% completion of all tasks set during the past six weeks of Distance Learning.
As we approach two months of lockdown, I wanted to share my friend’s experiences and mine during this confusing time. Let’s be honest, at the start of this, we were all excited to stay home and watch Netflix until 14:00 in the afternoon. However, I think most of us have come to realise, that school is not only the best environment for education, but also the epicentre of many of our social interactions. I, for one, miss school immensely, and cannot wait to be back in the music room singing with my friends.

I do, in fact, miss my teachers and my Form Tutor Miss Wells, and her constructive teasing! I miss the love and support that the Leadership Team have perpetually shown us. Lastly, I miss the ability to connect with lots of people in the year, through my duties. With Boris’ announcement on Sunday, we’ve learned that some primary school children may be going back to school part-time at the beginning of June. We are all pleased that the end of this lockdown is starting to appear. However, I am sad that he did not give a date for secondary schools. Nevertheless, we must stay positive and be grateful that we can go to the seaside or have a picnic and relax with our immediate family. It hasn’t all been bad though. I’m definitely a better baker, even if I can’t say the same for the rest of my family! I have also started to learn my mum’s first language, Welsh, as well as learning to play the guitar. My singing and piano teachers have given me weekly lessons over Skype, a challenging experience that I’ve learnt to adapt to. We’ve even celebrated birthdays over Zoom, watching movies together as if we weren’t all in different houses. But most importantly I’ve spent invaluable time with my family, both outdoors and indoors, something I will be eternally grateful for. We’re all usually rushing to work, school, or our other activities and don’t always spend enough time together. I wanted to write this because I think it’s really important to stay connected even if you can’t see the people that you miss in person. If you are able, please call, FaceTime, or whatever you can to keep in touch with those who are closest to you, it’s what will keep you sane through these hard times. We all have off days, I know I’ve had my fair share, and that’s okay. Talk to your family, and make sure that you, and the people nearest to you are okay. Cadw’ch yn ddiogel a dymuniadau gorau (stay safe and best wishes). - Catrin Frost, Head Girl.

Lockdown has been really weird - It’s often easy to forget how strange the whole situation is after a while, making me really want to see the surprised face of my past self if I was to tell him about it. I can’t wait until I’m old enough to tell my grandchildren about the 2020 pandemic, as their mouths drop in horror of the idea of being trapped with their family for months, rightly so. Something I quickly realised when catching up with people is that when you’ve only been mucking around at home for the last month, it is clear that there is much less to talk about. The highest topics of conversation seem to be what you had for dinner last night, and how you’ve been procrastinating from doing schoolwork. It’s nice however, to know that others are just as bored as you. I think isolation has definitely raised concerns for people’s mental well-being, illustrating the importance of keeping busy and giving meaning to the day through routine and new hobbies. I was really happy that I managed to get an old basketball hoop in the garden to practise with, but I think it is a worrying sign that I seem to have gotten worse! Even though our brains are probably turning to jelly, it’s a reassuring thought that so is everybody else’s. Hope everyone stays safe and well, it'll all be over before you know it. - Angus Walton, Head Boy.

Lockdown has been a mix of everything for me. I have enjoyed being able to choose when I do my work and have been making sure that I only work on weekdays so I’m free on the weekends to do other things. I have also taken this opportunity to try out new hobbies. For example, experimenting with my sewing machine (didn’t turn out too well, although I managed a few face masks). Baking has been more successful, and I’ve been really enjoying yoga. I am upset about not being able to see my friends, and missing out on events such as the DoE expedition and the school show. However, these are just little things we all have to cope with at the moment. This whole experience will make everything more special when this strange time is over. - Susannah Wallbank, member of Senior Prefect Team

Lockdown more than anything has given me time for self-reflection and learning new skills! I’ve taken to doing recreational digital art, to relax my mind after doing a day of remote learning. With my new hobby, I can incorporate my developing skills into my home learning. For example, in my drama class, where my group can plan out costume and set design with ease. I think it’s important we all have a moment to ourselves, and picking up a hobby like drawing, embroidery, or even just sketching your emotions, is a perfect way to wind down and be mindful. - Angelina Else, member of Senior Prefect Team.
ARTIST OF THE WEEK

EMILY HILL AND ISHA SALEEM

Emily has been working so hard on her Japanese art coursework project. Here are some examples of her sketchbook pages. We are super proud of how hard she has been working and how much she has improved her drawing skills.

Isha created some fantastic botanical drawings for her Textiles project. Well done Isha!

Last week, the English Department launched an Instagram account to share some of the fantastic writing that the children have been producing during lockdown, from Year 7 and 8 poetry to Year 10 sharing revision resources. We have been blown away by the amazing work! If you have done a piece of writing for your English which you would like to share, email it to Mrs Everett at o.everett2@reigate-school.surrey.sch.uk. If you are interested in following, search for @reigate_english on Instagram. We are looking forward to seeing all your wonderful work!

Every Monday, visit the Notice Board on SMHW for a Weekly Well-Being Focus. We are committed to ensuring that we continue to support you and your child with their studies and pastoral care, whilst Reigate school is closed. Every Monday on SMHW Notice Board, all children will receive a single-paged power-point that will focus on one element of their well-being. Included will be interesting facts to discuss with your child and a task to try at home, based on the weekly topic. We hope you keep well and find this a useful resource during this time. – PSHE Department
The next week of career talks from a variety of professionals online through Speakers for Schools starts on Monday. A link will be provided in Show My Homework, which will allow the children to join the live event at the specified time.

STARLINE

StarLine is a national home learning helpline offering expert information and advice to parents and carers.

StarLine advisers are qualified teachers and education and parenting experts from schools, trusts and national organisations. They work in different types of schools, in different towns, and cities and have different subject specialisms. They all understand the challenges of home learning and want to help parents and carers support their children’s learning.

StarLine can help parents and carers in the following ways:

- By providing access to a team of qualified teachers, education and parenting experts.
- By focussing on providing practical ideas, support and reassurance.
- By offering tips, techniques and resources to enable parents to give their children the support they need to continue learning while schools are closed.
- By supporting family wellbeing and mental health.
- By covering all phases of education and subjects plus behaviour, pupil wellbeing and SEND.

StarLine is available to parents and carers of children from all schools nationwide. Free, confidential advice is available six days a week by phoning the StarLine team on 0330 313 9162. For more information, visit https://www.starline.org.uk/ or follow @StarLineSupport on Twitter.

ONLINE SAFETY AT HOME

#OnlinesafetyAtHome has been created by the NCA-CEOP ThinkuKnow Education Team to support parents and carers during COVID-19 and the closure of schools.

Each fortnight, a new home activity pack is released with simple 15 minute activities parents and carers can do with their child to support their online safety at home. For more information and to access the activity packs please visit the website below.

https://www.thinkuknow.co.uk/

Parent Info is a collaboration between Parent Zone and NCA-CEOP, providing support and guidance for parents and carers related to the digital world from leading experts and organisations. Specific articles have been created for Parent Info to support families during this difficult time. For more information and to access articles please visit the website below.

Surrey County Council have set up a new community helpline to direct families to services that can help during the coronavirus pandemic.

This community phone line is here for two things:

- To help direct residents who need support, if friends and family are unable to help with such things as picking up shopping, prescription collections or having someone who can be a telephone friend, and other services that can help.

- To provide advice on where to register your offer of help to support your community.

Community Helpline number: 0300 200 1008 (Monday to Friday: 8am to 6pm, Saturday and Sunday: 10am to 2pm)

Thinkuknow is an education programme from the National Crime Agency’s CEOP Command. Since 2006, Thinkuknow has been keeping children and young people safe by providing education about sexual abuse and sexual exploitation. Thinkuknow is unique. It is underpinned by the latest intelligence about child sex offending from CEOP Command. Thinkuknow aims to ensure that everyone has access to this practical information – children, young people, their parents and carers and the professionals who work with them. Alongside the Thinkuknow website the programme provides educational resources, including films, cartoons and lesson plans, to help parent/carers and professionals raise young people’s awareness.

CAREERS GUIDANCE

We have a careers section on the school website which contains useful information regarding college open events, up and coming careers events at Reigate School, details regarding apprenticeships and how to search and apply for them along with links to useful websites. There is also a link to a quiz which is fun to take and will give children an idea of what kind of careers will suit their personalities. Go to Academic-Careers or Academic-Option at post 16 for details of local college open events. Below are some other very useful websites which have plenty of information regarding further education, apprenticeships and careers choices plus interview techniques and many other tips.
