

THE SOHO SCOOP

News and Views from Soho Parish

Headline

Over the last few weeks it's felt very quiet 'back at the ranch', with our children sampling London's best attractions, including the Natural History Museum, the British Museum, St Paul's Cathedral, the Transport Museum and the London Aquarium! What better way to delve into a topic than immerse yourself in artefacts, art and culture? Rock band did us proud as warm-up act at the Tri-borough Music Hub Battle of the Bands; the first primary school ever to perform at the event! Queuing outside Bush Hall, I was proud to be their groupie. Please do note the information below about forthcoming events.

Book Week

Book Week 2018 is fast approaching and we have lots of exciting activities to look forward to!

After speaking to the children about Book Week, many said that they would like to know the dress up day in advance, so that they can prepare their costume. The dress as a book character day will be on Thursday 1st March – we can't wait for the costume parade!

A letter will be sent closer to the time full of all the information you need for Book Week

Chinese New Year

On Monday 19th February (the first Monday back after half term) Soho Parish will be celebrating Chinese New Year by having a day of Chinese themed activities and learning across the school.

As part of this we would like to invite any parents or carers who have a skill linked to China to come in and share what they know with the children.

You might, for example, be able to teach them some Mandarin, show them how to cook a Chinese dish, tell them a story from China, model some calligraphy or share with them some other aspects of Chinese culture.

If you would like to come into your child's class and share what you know please speak to your child's class teacher and arrange a suitable time with them.

We look forward to celebrating with you!
Thank you,

Rosie Malton, PSHE Coordinator.
