CAREERS BULLETIN

National Careers Week Monday 4 – Friday 8 March

The school will be celebrating National Careers Week which aims to promote the importance of good careers education in schools and colleges. The school will be hosting careers and inspire talks with former students Holly Coombes and Ella Jackson.

Holly Coombes will be leading a careers and inspire talk with Year 9 Music students as well as giving a music concert with the Artume Quartet. Ella Jackson will be speaking to Year 12 students about Apprenticeships and the great opportunities they can bring. The careers department will be leading college assemblies to discuss the future of work. SUAS staff have been completing door plaques, outlining their previous jobs and skills developed in their career journey and students have been completing the `I want to be` frames stating which jobs they would like to have in the future. This work will be displayed by the school reception during NCW.

Year 11 and Year 13 Apprenticeship vacancies with ICAEW
