Dear Parent / Carer

A-Level Physics Textbooks

Welcome to A-level Physics! We hope you find the course interesting and fulfilling as well as enjoying the challenge it presents. Part of that challenge is the increased depth of knowledge required and the ability to solve more complex problems. With that comes the requirement to spend significantly more time and effort outside of lesson time consolidating knowledge and practicing the techniques for answering a variety of questions. Part of this is having a central reference point of a single textbook relevant to the exam specification. This year we are moving to the CGP textbook which is a required text, with a choice of associated optional support materials. The textbook is available from Amazon but we are able to purchase at a significantly reduced price through school. As such I will be placing an order with CGP on Thursday 20th September, which will hopefully be with us by the end of the same week. The items listed below will be available to purchase via ParentPay until the end of Tuesday 18th September. After that, individuals will need to purchase items through normal retail channels.

The school does not benefit financially from ordering the books this way, but I hope the reduced cost will encourage students to invest in more of the revision materials which will be excellent resources for supervised study and independent study sessions.

An overview of the books is available at: https://www.cgpbooks.co.uk/Student/books_a_level_physics_aqa
Please note the combined Revision and Practice bundle comprises the same books as 'Revision and practice' and 'Exam practice workbook' listed as the two items below it – please don't order the bundle AND the separate books. As we run the full 2 year A-level course, and not a single year AS course all books listed cover both years of the curriculum.
