What can I do to help my child?

- Help students to compile their own family trees and identify different family types and relationships across three generations.
- Watch a soap opera and note down media representations of the family.
- Discuss the family in contemporary Britain using stimulus material. For example, watch a 'fly-on-the-wall' documentary, e.g. 'The Family' (Channel 4).
- Discuss gender roles in the media by examining advertising for household products or cars (e.g. YouTube website).
- Watch a documentary programme about a contemporary issue to encourage discussion, e.g. 'Teen Mum High' (BBC).
- Please regularly go through your child's class notes and monitor their progress
- Please ensure that homework is being completed with the utmost effort
- Discussion about topics in the news can always be linked to our studies so keeping students up to date with contemporary affairs will be beneficial
- Insist that absence from lessons must be followed by meaningful catch up exercises (full support will be offered)
- Watch sociological programmes on TV or films that allow for sociological scrutiny (details available from teaching staff)
- Encourage students to read Sociology books beyond the designated course textbook.

Additional resources and details of core texts used:

- The Independent Study Centre (ISC) is a good starting point for various resources, including access to copies of the core textbook and revision guide. In addition, you can find many Sociology texts at your nearest Warwickshire Library (www.warwickshire.gov.uk/findalibrary)
- The core text book and revision guide used in lessons are those published by Hodder (www.hoddereducation.co.uk/sociology). [Textbook ISBN: 9781510403116, Revision Guide ISBN: 9781510423237]
- The internet is full of sociological information to help your child. Nevertheless, please ensure the content is at the right level for your child to use effectively. Please discourage direct copying from internet sites. Written work must be in the students' own words
- A collection of revision notes are available here (www.tutor2u.net/sociology/gcse-sociology.html)
- Learning resources organised by topic (www.bbc.co.uk/education/subjects/zbbw2hv)
- Plenty of revision resources including podcasts (www.sociologytwynham.com/revision-exercises/)
- Links to a huge variety of sociological information for learning, revision, research and explorations (www.revisiontime.com/gCSESoc.htm)
- Parents and students can access key materials such as the Exam specification, specimen question papers and mark schemes directly from the exam board via the AQA website (<https://www.aqa.org.uk/subjects/sociology/gcse/sociology-8192>).

Teaching group arrangements:

All teaching groups are mixed ability.

Where can I get more advice?
