

Friday 15 November 2013

Dear Parents / Guardians

Level 3 and Level 3+ history lecture visit - Wednesday 27 November 2013

As part of our on-going delivery of the history A-Level course, I am delighted to invite all Level 3 and Level 3+ students to a special lecture titled 'The Intellectual Consequences of the First World War' at the Gustave Tuck Lecture Theatre, UCL. This lecture will be delivered by Professor Peter Clark and will take place on Wednesday 27 November 2013 from 6.00pm to 7.00pm.

Students will leave the UCL Academy at 5.00pm. From Swiss Cottage tube station we will make our way to Euston Square tube station using London Underground. Students will be registered once more in the University building and will be dismissed after the lecture finishes at 7.00pm making their way home independently.

To enable your child to take part in this activity, please complete and return the enclosed consent form by Friday 22 November. We will not be able to allow students to attend this event without a signed consent form.

Many thanks for your on-going support.

Yours sincerely,

Steven Boot
Curriculum Lead of Humanities

Level 3 and Level 3+ History Lecture: Wednesday 27 November 2013

(Please delete as appropriate)

- I give consent for my child to attend the lecture on Wednesday 27 November 2013
 I do not give consent for my child to attend the lecture on Wednesday 27 November 2013

Full name of student: _____

Tutor group: _____

Name of Parent/guardian: _____

Telephone number of parent/guardian: _____

Parent/guardian signature _____