

Nursery earns praise

CHELMSFORD: For the fourth time, Tanglewood Nursery School has been graded as outstanding by Ofsted.

Under the latest framework, the nursery in Melbourne Avenue, Chelmsford, was given top marks in every area, much to the delight of head teacher Susan Sutton.

She said: "I am thrilled that the inspection has acknowledged the nursery as an outstanding provision. We want the children to believe in themselves as capable learners and provide them with a firm foundation for learning throughout their lives."

The nursery was originally given the top grade in 2000.
